JUNE 20

IS TO BE OBSERVED AS FLAG DAY
INSTEAD OF JUNE 14TH, THE DAY DESIGNATED BY OTHER STATES.

AND WEST VIRGINIA WILL THUS
HAVE A DOUBLE CELEBRATION
AS THAT IS OUR BIRTH-DAY.

Governor White has issued the following official proclamation:

In pursuance of a commendable custom being established among the States of the Union, which is designed to cultivate a spirit of patriotism and love of country, the 14th day of June has been observed by proclamation of the various governors and designated as Flag Day, this date being the anniversary of the Act of Congress fixing the character and design of the flag of our country.

Another event of supreme interest to our citizens is the anniversary of the birth of our State. On June 20th we enter upon the forty-second year of our history, and surely West Virginians have special reason to be grateful to Divine Providence for the wonderful development which has come to our State and should recognize in some public manner the natal day of our Commonwealth.

It has therefore seemed to me an appropriate act to commemorate both events this year in our State by observing Flag Day on June 20.

I therefore call upon all patriotic citizens to give expression to their love of Country and State by displaying the National colors at their homes and places of business on Monday, June 20th, and I further direct that all public institutions of the State, and request that so far as practicable, all the public schools and educational institutions, also, display our national colors on that date.

The mayors of the various cities and towns are requested to order flags to be displayed upon the public buildings of their respective cities, and by proclamation or otherwise, to notify their fellow citizens to do the same upon their private buildings. The editors of the State are also requested to call attention to this commemoration and to publish historical and patriotic articles both in regard to the flag and to the history of our State, and to join in the request that the public display the national colors on June 20th.

The formal ceremonies under the auspices of the State government, commemorative of the day, will take place at the West Virginia building on the grounds of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, at St. Louis, on June 20th, and as many of our citizens as can do so are cordially invited and urged to be present on that occasion. Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, at the Capitol thereof, in Charleston, on this 14th day of May, A. D., 1904, and in the forty-first year of the State.

ALBERT B. WHITE.

By the Governor:
WM. M. O. DAWSON,
Secretary of State.

The Story of Cinderella in Flowerland.

After the opening song by Miss Katherine Hough, Robin Redbreast calls the flowers to awaken as Spring has come and Prince Sunshine will soon give a ball. All the flowers respond from the gentle violet to the proud hollyhock and tiger lily. After discussing what they shall wear to the ball, they all go to make ready, leaving only the little meadow daisy, who has only a ragged dress of green and cannot go. Then the Fairy God-mother comes and sends her to the ball in beautiful array, where many wonderful things happen. But if we were to tell you all about it you would not need to go. We will just tell you that the flowers all dance a minuet, the sunbeams sing till the raindrops scare them away, and the butterflies flutter about like real butterflies only they are sweeter for they are little girls, and everyone likes a dear little girl better than a butterfly.

Miss Simmons and Miss Maxwell have decided to introduce some specialties between the acts, which add greatly to the entertainment.

The tickets are now on sale at Christie's Drug Store. Get yours before all the good seats are gone. It is a charming entertainment and you will be sorry if you miss it.

Golden Wedding Anniversary.

The following invitations have been received: "1854. Golden wedding. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Fleming will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. Tuesday, May 31, 1904, at their home, Fairfield, Illinois."

The invitation was accompanied by a picture of Mr. and Mrs. Fleming.

Both are well known to most of the older people about the city, having been born and reared here. More than a quarter of a century ago they went West, but have visited here several times. Mrs. Fleming was formerly Miss Cordella Dudley.

ANARCHIST

HAS BEEN EXCLUDED FROM THIS COUNTRY BY THE SECRETARY
OF COMMERCE AS AN UN-
DESIRABLE CITIZEN.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 17.—Wm. Turner, the British anarchist, was rightfully excluded from this country by the Secretary of Commerce. The Supreme Court so held today, Chief Justice Fuller handing down the decision of the Court. He held that the order of the court below, affirming this exclusion, was the proper one. The power of Congress to legislate for the exclusion of an anarchist was fully sustained. Turner's speeches were held to be incitements to the use of force against the prevailing government and Turner himself was held to be a man dangerous to the public weal, not a desirable addition to the population of the United States.

Turner, who is out on bail, recently returned to Great Britain.

A HUGE BONFIRE

MAY BE MADE OF ABOUT ONE
THOUSAND SQUARE PIANOS
AS AN OBJECT LESSON.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 17.—A huge bonfire of about a thousand square pianos, the kind that were once the pride of wealthy families throughout the United States, will, in all probability, be a feature of the conventions of the National association of Piano dealers and manufacturers to be held here next week.

This destruction of most of the square pianos in the possession of dealers in this country was suggested by certain firms in Philadelphia. They propose it as a great object lesson to piano buyers and an amusing way of getting rid of what they term "A lot of annoying pink."

A member of a Philadelphia firm, in speaking of the affair, explained that square pianos were practically abandoned twenty years ago. Those in existence, he declared, are a thorn in the side of the dealers.
